

CHARLES CHAMBER

Reference : TD-8595

This hermetic chamber has temperature and pressure probes. Used with a pressure / temperature sensor, the chamber then makes it possible to study Charles' law: by plunging it into water at different temperatures, the pressure and the temperature of the gas at constant volume are then obtained.