

Reference : FERFLUID

Ferrofluid is a liquid that contains very small ferromagnetic particles. In general, they are magnetite particles of a size of only about 10 nm. As a result, the liquid reacts very strongly to magnetic fields and responds surprisingly.

10 mL vial delivered with pipette.

Attention, it is strongly recommended to use this product with gloves, jacket and goggles. May cause very persistent skin stains.